Welcome to our Garden, over twelve years in the restoration, now an RHS Partner Garden and home to the National Collection of Backhouse Heritage Daffodils.

"Well behaved dogs welcome in the shaded area by the car park (water provided) and in the woodland walk. Assistance dogs only in the Gardens."

The Backhouse Café

The Backhouse Nursery

Established in 1816 and once known as 'the Kew of the North' we now offer bulbs, herbs, plants, shrubs, a range of seeds and cut flowers in season inspired by our families original sales catalogues. Many plants are propagated or grown from seed here at the re-established Backhouse Nursery. Also available online.

Backhouse branded tea, coffee, heritage apple juice, bees wax candles, as well as artist cards and prints illustrating our daffodil collection. We also offer plants and herbs as gifts, floral arrangements, wreaths and David Austin Roses.

James Backhouse

The Backhouse Heritage Centre & National Collection of Daffodils

We are directly descended from the Quaker Backhouse family of Botanists & Bankers. They amazed the world with their new plant introductions, including Alliums, Campanula, Ferns, Heathers, Lavender, Lilies and Snowdrops. Their new daffodil cultivars caused great excitement and changed daffodil breeding in this country forever. Come and see some of these historic plants and daffodils in our National Collection and try the lemon scented myrtle Backhousia citriodora from our café menu. In the Heritage Centre, you can find out about the family, their horticultural legacy, why it is important, how it is being preserved and celebrated in the restored Walled Garden and the developing nursery by the 6th generation.
